Two streams

Zumba II is equipped with a stream switch with two functions: aeration and spray. The jet is changed by rotating the spout tip.

▼ Aerated stream

Uniform gentle stream in the middle of the tip. Used to fill dishes.

▼ Spray

The stream is dispersed through nozzles located within the perimeter of the spout. Practical for hand washing and rinsing fruits and vegetables.

Flexible spout

Extremely useful function for those who appreciate the smooth and comfortable handling of a faucet. It allows you to give the spout any shape, change height and range of the water jet as required, for fast rinsing of dishes or comfortable washing of the sink. A combination of two types of jet with a flexible spout provides optimum comfort during washing up.
